Blaimore Council

The regular meeting of the Blaimore town council was held last night, when but little business was transacted.

The meeting was presided over by deputy mayor W. A. Beebe.

The minutes of previous meeting were on motion approved and several communications were disposed of, including letter to the chairman of the relief committee from the chief provincial mine inspector with a cheque for $400 to pay accounts in connection with relief work; and another from Judge E. P. McNeill, stating that as the sitting of the district court had to be postponed to Tuesday, June 8th, it would be necessary either to defer the consideration of appeals against the assessment until that date or have the appeals heard at Macleod at any earlier date. Both letters were ordered filed.

The following accounts were passed for payment: Rocky Mountain Cement Co. $50.80, Alberta Govt. Telephone $32.10, John Rosbach $27.5, A. McLeod $80.00, J. Handley $4.50, R. Smallwood $1.50, W. A. Beebe $23.00, Blaimore Hardware Co. 30c, Victor Weldons $65.00, & M. Thompson Co. $12.50.

Sinclair-Rosse—That Council W. A. Beebe be re-appointed deputy mayor for a term of three months. Carried.

The by-law to appoint a returning officer for the forthcoming municipal election received its second reading.

Choir Leader—J. J. Thomas. Sunday School Superintendent—G. H. Wycheley.

Delegate to District Meeting—Geo. H. Wycheley.

The Sunday School was reported in good working condition.

The board was delighted with the outcome of the financial year, and all hope that W. T. Young will be returned to Frank for another year's service.

The following financial statement for the year ending May 16, 1915, was read by Mr. Wycheley:

The total raised by all departments of the church for the year was $1082.00.

Patriotic Meeting

About five hundred people turned out on Saturday evening last at the opera house to hear Hon. R. B. Bennett's popular address on "Patriotism."

Late in the evening the idea struck certain prominent Passonians that the presence of Mr. Bennett in The Pass at such a period afforded an exceptional opportunity to those who pride in the ability of Mr. Bennett to explain matters of greatest moment and importance to us as a nation. Sharp at 7.30 crowds began to gather at the spacious assembly room in response to short notice given by way of notices and telephone dispatches.

The chair was occupied by Acting-Mayor Beebe, who in a few well chosen words introduced Mr. Bennett. We regret that space will not permit to give a detailed report of the address, which throughout was both brilliant and instructive. He dwelt at length upon the example of real patriotism established by the little country of Belgium, and felt it his duty to dip his hat to every person of Belgian descent or nationality.

This was the first opportunity most of our people have had to hear Alberta's greatest platform speaker, and needless to say all were pleased with his oration.

On behalf of the audience, Mr. L. H. Putnam moved a vote of thanks to the Hon. Mr. Bennett, who had so kindly consented to address the meeting. Mr. Gillis rose to support the motion, and the audience responded unanimously.

Owing to the length of time occupied in the address the musical part of the program had to be confined to an appropriate song rendered by Mr. W. Shaw, mine inspector, and a couple of national hymns.

Fault in Mine Maps Led to Disaster

A singular and yet complete explanation of how a mine disaster occurred and 20 lives were lost near Nanaimo on Vancouver Island, February 18, was made at an inquest. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of death by drowning, but called for a government examination into the causes of the accident and the fixing of the responsibility. On the date mentioned the miners of the Pacific coast pit were caught by water which had broken through from the old Southfield workings. The latter had been abandoned years ago. When the Pacific Coast workings some time ago began to be worked, the water near the old pit was not given the same attention. It was taken for granted that the scales of both maps were the same, whereas the fact was divulged that the scale of the Southfield was 132 feet to the inch and the new scale of the Pacific Coast was 100 feet even. Figuring them both at 100 feet the mine engineers had supposed that on the day before the accident a wall of 415 feet separated the mines. On the actual scale of 132 feet to the inch, the mine workings would be only two feet, this as a matter of fact was found to be the state of affairs. This two foot wall broke through and the water came into the Pacific coast pit in such a way that the men were not given time to get out.

Rev. W. H. Irwin, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at Bellevue, is expected shortly to be transferred to a new field of labor in this province. Regarding his proposed departure the Albion "News" says: "Many will regret the departure of Mr. Irwin. While some have dissented from his setting of old truths as detrimental to faith; on the other hand, others have been attracted to the church by his originality. He is never uninteresting, and the boldness of some of his views make him a marked man in the discussion of religious and social topics."

Buying At Home

I bought some rags of Tailor Skaggs and paid him when I got 'em; he went with glee. For now, I said he, "I'll pay my bills, do I not?" So on he ran he took the man, and paid the corner grocer, whose trade was bad, and who was sad, because the wolf drew closer. This made him smile, and for a while the sun of rose and roses, though cheerful things, forgot the kinks, and paid his clerks their wages. And Billum Bink, the old hand clerk, put up some thankful phrases; his wife was ill—the druggist's bill had worried him like blazes. The druggist cried, "I'll give you your bill, I thank you for these roubles; I'm in the hole and need a roll to ease my weight of troubles." The druggist paid that someone made, his first assistant, Annie, and just for luck, she blew a buck for roller skates for grumpy. And thus my seeds brought help to lads and girls beyond the counting; much trouble ceased, and joy increased, and kept on mounting, mounting. You see my friends, you should spend your coin with local dealers, you're spreading glee and ecstasy to bent the sunshiny spindles.

Dependent And Delinquent Children

We have received a copy of the 1914 annual report of the department of the attorney general on "Dependent and Delinquent Children." The report is very complete and contains much interesting data of the great work being carried on in this connection in the Province of Alberta. During the year five hundred and sixty-five children ranging in age from infants of two days old to boys and girls of 17 years have been placed in foster homes. Seven hundred and fifty applications have been received, and of this number the percentage which have been necessarily turned down has been less than in former years, owing to the fact that it is now generally understood that children are not available for adoption unless these be of exceptionally good character. The problem of home-finding is not considered a particularly serious one, as there have been more homes open for children than there are children to supply. Shelters are located at Edmonton, Medicine Hat, Calgary and Lethbridge. During the year the Edmonton shelter looked after no less than 3000 cases of children, of which 448 were sent from the city of Edmonton and 411 from outside points. Calgary shelter looked after 300 children, 131 of whom came from outside points, and 429 from the city. The Lethbridge shelter 74 children have been handled, 65 of whom were from points outside the city. The shelter at Medicine Hat is in course of construction and will soon be ready for occupancy. It will have accommodation for about forty children.

Canadian Red Cross

Toronto, May 26.—The terrible tragedy of the Lusitania when over one thousand innocent non-combatants were ruthlessly murdered by orders of the German war staff has brought this war home to the people of Canada as nothing else could have done. Even the battle of Langemarck seems to pale before this monstrous crime enacted by a nation which boasts of its superior culture and civilization. Then our soldiers were killed in action while fighting in the ranks of the British forces but in the tragedy enacted on the south coast of Ireland, men, women and children were slaughtered without warning and when nearly at their journey's end.

If there is a man, woman, or child in the Dominion of Canada today who has not in some way assisted in the great work of service, this disaster if it may be so described, will surely bring them in to the swelling rank of the workers. It would be hard to believe that there could be one single person in this country who can sit idle and do nothing for the cause for which we are fighting when he or she reads the terrible news that has been filling the columns of the daily papers for the past two or three weeks.

The Canadian Red Cross Society has never appealed to the people of Canada with greater fervor and earnestness than it does today. The hospitals in England and France, which are equipped and maintained by the Canadian society through the generosity of the people of the Dominion, are filled with sick and wounded Canadian soldiers and the convalescent soldier leaves for further duty and honor at the front, his place is immediately taken by some wounded comrade.

These men are our own sons and brothers and are there anything too great we can do for them in comparison to what they are doing for us? We are living in comfort and enjoying our peaceful pursuits in this land while they are bearing the brunt of battle and taking part in the most inhuman war that the nations of the world have ever engaged in. No doubt in the few quiet moments allowed them at the front their thoughts go back to the peaceful homes and loved ones far across the ocean. Well might they say: "I am giving my life for you: What are you doing for me?"

It is for everyone in this country to try to ask himself or herself: "What am I doing for my country at this time?" The blood of the best in the land has been shed that we may remain a nation and an integral part of the great British Empire. Many of the best citizens we had lie buried on the once fertile fields of Flanders. They will never return to their homes or their loved ones in Canada but their example and their sacrifice will be immortal. A great and glorious thing it is to die for one's country.

The Canadian Red Cross Society is doing all that is humanely possible to look after the comfort and needs of our sick and wounded sol-

Lo, The Poor Labor Man

It seems almost pitiable that there are men so narrow that they believe the laboring man is not an equal but is an ineffectual human atom who must be protected in kindly manner by the tender care and patronage of big (?) souled prohibitionists. The prohibition people who brought out the Liquor Act admit that they have done so chiefly to protect the labor man who cannot protect himself. To the one who knows the labor man this is an insult. In the labor classes of today there are men of at least as high intelligence and broad charity as any of those who fathered this Liquor Act.

The temperance people say that with the adoption of this Act there will come an unprecedented era of prosperity for the worker. They do not say that it will reduce the income of the provincial government by nearly $300,000 and will put 1,800 bartenders on the streets.

When asked about these things they admit them, wave their hands and go off on some statement regarding prohibition or the demon, or the monster or some other choice mouthful.

The labor men of today want facts. The facts of the weakness and injustices of the Liquor Act are so apparent that one reading will show them all. It is honeycombed with unpracticabilities, and with loopholes for the illegal trafficker. It devotes all of Clause 44 to protection of that choice citizen the "volunteer informer." It practically declares that it will not only stand for sneaks but it will even encourage them in underhand methods. Clause 44 is a clause worth reading.

It says that when an information is drawn up charging any person with violating the Act it will not be necessary to state more than that the law was broken, not requiring to know quantity or kind of liquor. It states further that it also is not necessary to state the name of the person who bought the liquor, sold it, or gave it to the accused. Any man who has a spite against a neighbor can safely get satisfaction by carrying tails to a liquor detective and then let the detective do the surface work. It is a clause that appeals not to workmen or westerners.—Advt.

This can only be done if we receive the support of the people of Canada. There should not be one village, however small, that has not a Red Cross branch working each and every day for the cause. Funds are needed all the time for the purchase of supplies and the upkeep of the hospitals on the continent and in England. Surgical and medical supplies are needed in enormous quantities and money is needed for the purchase of them. Hospital requirements, such as blankets, sheets, pillow cases, towels, wash cloths, etc. are needed and socks are wanted in their thousands.

With the splendid assistance of the press of Canada our appeals are able to reach every quarter of the land. Those who read these lines will, we feel sure, be stirred to greater energy, self sacrifice and patriotism. All donations or supplies may be sent to the provincial branches or to the head office, 77 King Street, East, Toronto. Do not delay one hour but DO IT NOW.

Tailored half-a-Million Worth of Cloths to Special Order

"The growth of the Special Order business in semi-ready tailoring is evidenced by the fact that within five years the growth in this particular department was over 800 per cent.—a wonderful increase. "Semi-ready Special Orders are made to measure in four full working days at the shops in Montreal. Not a customer is lost after the delivery of the order and measurement at their office on Guy Street. "Made of an hour the web of cloth selected is on the cutter's board. The cut goes to the cutmakers, the vest to the vest makers, the trousers to another floor, and on the afternoon of the fourth day all three garments reach the inspection room within an hour of each other.

"Team work, efficiency and system in handling make the business as certain as the time of an express train. "Suits are tailored to measure for $15 and up. The customer is offered a selection of 300 patterns, of wools, perys, tweeds, homespuns, vicunas and other special cloths—all imported direct from England for the special department.

quarter of a ton, or to be exact, 587 pounds. Aside from being the "biggest girl in the world," Mrs. Gowdy is a slide. Until two weeks ago, when she was weighed to Gladys, tall, tank, and weighing 118 pounds, she was Miss Josie Jolly.

"It may be nobody loves a fat man, but there's men who love fat women—didn't I catch a husband?" said Mrs. Gowdy.

"I don't see why women who are fat are forever complaining. I am satisfied. I like to be fat. You don't catch me rolling around on the floor or taking any of those headbanging exercises to reduce. I want all I've got and I'll not object to more weight!"

Just to show she could "step about a bit," Mrs. Gowdy did a genuine buck and wing dance for a select audience in Miss Anna Shelton's hairdressing parlor in the station.

Frank Happenings

Mrs. T. Longworth left here on Tuesday evening for Medicine Hat.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Morgan motored to their ranch at Burnis on Monday, spending a few days there.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jepson went to Burnis on Wednesday to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. Wardman.

Walter Miller, of Bellevue, arrived back from the old country on Saturday morning last and took part in the game for Frank against Bellevue, thus showing his lasting interest in the Frank team and the game.

Rev. W. T. and Mrs. Young, and Rev. T. Hart left on Monday for Clearholm to attend the Methodist District meeting. From Clearholm the former proceeded to Edmonton to attend the Alberta Methodist conference.

Frank and Bellevue played their return game at Frank on Saturday. Owing to the patriotic meeting being on at Blairmore the attendance at the game was small. Frank was considerably handicapped through having to fill up shortages on the Bellevue team and Bellevue won by 3 to 1.

Coleman will play at Frank on Saturday, May 29th. Kick-off at 6 p.m. This will be another good game as each team seems to be measuring up the other for the coming league games which will probably take place on June 5th and 19th. The winners of these two dates will play the final with the British Columbia winners July 3rd for the league cup and medals.

Frank journeyed to Coleman on Monday to play an exhibition game at the sports. Both teams were strongly represented. The game started before a good crowd of enthusiastic spectators, quite a number making the journey from Frank, Bellevue and Blairmore to see the game. The game was unusually fast. Coleman, through a little misunderstanding, succeeded in scoring the first goal after fifteen minutes play, but Frank put pressure and Jordan, centre forward, put on three goals in fifteen minutes, putting Frank in the lead. Coleman added a second in the latter part of the second half but could not draw level, and Frank was declared winner by 3 to 2 after a good "clean" game. Considering the condition of the Coleman ground, we venture to say that Monday's game was one of the best seen on the Coleman enclosure for some time. R. Tennant had charge of the game.

Baseless Charge Nailed
After all, it was the House of Morgan, and not certain ministers of the Rutherford government, which lent itself to the $20,000 premium on the bond issue of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railroad. The truth came out in a statement by Premier Sifton during the closing hours of the legislature in Edmonton last week. The political chest of the Waterways was brought up by leader Michener in the opposition, who made some reference to the missing premium and in reply the premier said:

"I think that in regard to this matter this is a good time that I should state that one of the English partners of the house of Morgan informed me that so far as their profit on these bonds was concerned, it went entirely to themselves."

Mr. Smith is the London partner, and he looks after matters there. He told me that when they bought these bonds they did not anticipate being able to sell them for anything like 110, but the bonds were not delivered to them until some months afterwards. There had been a considerable change in the market and they had been able to get it."

Hon. C. W. Cross, the attorney general, and former Premier Rutherford, are the men most concerned by this clearance. At the time of the bond sale it was openly charged that these two ministers were the beneficiaries, and the frank statement of the premier clears the atmosphere and sends to oblivion the baseless charges against these gentlemen.—The Western Standard.

Colin Macleod has been re-elected president of the Macleod Conservative Association.

The bachelors and bachelorettes played baseball on the Blairmore grounds on Wednesday afternoon, resulting in a victory for the bachelors.

The marriage of Miss Emily Grafton to Walter Dorcott, both of Coleman, was solemnized by Rev. J. F. Hunter at Blairmore on May the 24th.

He laughs best who laughs last! Ha, ha! A local prohibitionist was blamed for opposing the local authorities in taking possession of some opium from a Chinaman. A sample of the stuff was sent to Edmonton, and behold it wasn't opium. Wait 'till the (O)leod roll by! Nobody is cunning.

Letters From The Front

Mrs. W. Howe this morning received letters from her son, Walter, who is now with the machine gun section of the first Canadian Division. The letters were dated respectively April 22nd, May 7th, 8th and 9th. Following are extracts:

April 22nd and May 7th—"I guess you have seen by the papers what we have been through. I never expected to come through it. Those gases were terrible, and with shell fire it seemed as if hell was let loose. I wrote my last short note while we were in the old cellar. We had a gun mounted in there, but I never had a chance to post the note. Well, we are away back having a rest—all that are left of it and it seems like being in Paradise after what we have gone through. I expect the way we looked the Germans again, although I guess we shall have to. I received a letter from you dated April 7th, and two parcels. They were forty days in getting here. We all enjoyed the cigars, cigarettes, chocolate, etc. It is impossible for me to tell you how happy we all feel to be away from the noise for a while. The most of us lost all our belongings, and I was so sorry as I had a few little souvenirs in my pack. You, that get ourselves lucky to get away with our lives. I received The Enterprise containing an extract from my letter. I should have written you yesterday, but when I tell you that we had to march eighteen miles after four days and nights in the field, I don't know how you could expect me to write. I was so tired I did not know how to crawl along."

May 8th—"It is fine to be back in peace and quietness after the noise of battle. Guess you have seen by the papers that we were back in the trenches. If it was not for their gases, we would have them beaten hands down; but we will beat them at their own game. I have not received any cigarettes from the Calgary Red Cross fund, but I have enough to go on with for a while, anyway. There is a whole lot I want to tell you, but I cannot write it here. We have seen enough to make a fellow's heart bleed. Old men and women and little children looking along the road, their homes blown to pieces. They seem to be half stupified, but there is not much wonder."

May 9th—"I made an assignment today of $30. I want you to have $25 and not you can give to the Red Cross from you and I. I have seen much good work being done by the Red Cross out here, and as for you ladies at home, I am sure the Lord will bless you all for the noble work you are doing. I have seen some terrible sights out here, but I never hope to see again. I am afraid something will have to be done to make those terrible sights disappear. The cake, chocolate, and in fact everything is gone out of the food. You spoke of death being numerous. Yes, I am sorry to say they are. It makes one's blood boil within him to see his comrades shot down beside him and be powerless to do anything. In our last charge I lost all my comrades except you. It seems as if each one has a turn, and when that turn comes he has to go. One time we were caught in an open field and the Hun turned the machine gun on us, but they only got three of us. Enclosed is a little souvenir a poor old refugee woman gave me."

The local football team journeyed to Frank for that long expected return game. The game was a good one and the Bellevue boys put it over on Frank to the tune of 3 to 1. Not bad for a team like Bellevue's.

A slight fire occurred at the wash-house on Tuesday night, the origin of which is so far a mystery. A row of lockers were burned with all their contents, and quite a number of miners lost their nice clothes.

Although Prince Edward Island is the smallest province in Canada the citizens of that part of the Dominion are doing a great work for their country in this war. ## Cowley Happenings

H. D. MacMillan and daughter spent last week end in Macleod.

Monday was Victoria Day, and everything but the telephones was quiet.

"Peggy" Thompson and Jack Baker went in to the Creek last week and enlisted.

Did the boys play ball on Saturday night? They did, and the score was 6 to 9 in Cowley's favor.

We wondered and wondered what caused the snail that wouldn't come off the face of Mr. Morrison; but the sequel is out—the snail has been at his home and left a son and heir. Both mother and son are doing well.

J. Bannerman, of Scotland, arrived in Cowley on Saturday morning, much to the surprise of his few relatives who knew nothing of his coming. He is on a weekend visit to his daughter, Miss Minnie Bannerman, and other relatives and friends.

The Women's Institute of Cowley have donated $50.00 to have a bed erected in one of the English hospitals for any of the Cowley boys who become wounded at the front. The name "Cowley" will appear on the bed and its equipment. It will no doubt have a cheering effect on the boys who are placed in it when they see we have even followed him to the battlefield with a bed.

The Women's Institute met as usual on Saturday for their regular business, but a very small attendance was present. A number did not come on account of the busy times caused by the delay in the land by the rain. The members were surprised that no more parcels of comfort had come in from the country in response to their request of a few weeks ago. As this is a most urgent call, we ask over again that all who have old white blouses, linen towels, aprons, handkerchiefs, shirts, sheets, pillow slips, little dresses, undersuits, nightgowns or anything else that is past wearing, to send them in before next meeting day, so that we may be in a position to respond to this most urgent call from the front. It is not new cotton they are asking for, but old rags that will wash and boil to cover the wounded boys at the front—something that costs you no money and just a little time to wash and bundle up. Leave your bundle at any of the stores, with your name, and it will be delivered to the Women's Institute to be forwarded at once to the suffering ones.

Sunday was a most beautiful day after the recent rains. Surely it was meant to be so for the soldier boys who left Pincher Creek for the Sarcee Reserve. They had to march from the Creek to the station, and carry their equipment. Some of them looked very tired as they neared the station, while others looked quite fresh. One or two new recruits were practically all in. They were headed by the band, which played many selections enroute. Supper was served by Mr. Collins, of the Alexandra hotel, and some of the boys were heard to say, when asked if there were any complaints, that they were too full to complain, while others said it was the best supper they had had for some time. Accompanied by the band to the station a last farewell was bidden and the train pulled out at 7:40, leaving many behind to bear the strain of separation, as best they may and send their way homeward with heavy hearts, for even those who had neither friends or relatives going felt what a pity it was to sacrifice such a fine body of men, leaving, perhaps, to be shot down in cold blood or murdered by such a brutal lot as those Germans have proved themselves to be. The people of Pincher will miss the boys, to say the least, for they have won their place in the hearts of the people, who will look forward to their safe return after having been victorious. Hundreds came from far and near to pay a last tribute to the boys, and a rousing cheer went up as the train pulled out.
